Legal basis

The Qualifications and Quality Assurance (Education and Training) Act 2012. Certificates issued between 2001 and 2012 were issued by the Further Education and Training Awards Council on the basis of the Qualifications (Education and Training) Act 1999.

6. Officially recognised ways of acquiring the certificate

Programmes of further education and training are provided in Ireland by a wide range of providers within diverse settings. This includes publicly and privately funded institutions. Training may take place in a range of settings including within the workplace or community and youth settings.

Awards standards are expressed as expected learning outcomes and all are available online:

<http://www.qqi.ie/Qualifications/Pages/Certificate-Supplement.aspx>

Programmes of education and training that lead to certificates are validated by QQI for that purpose. QQI also monitors the quality of provision (<http://www.qqi.ie>).

Workplace-based learning

Work experience or equivalent is mandatory in all major awards specifications. Please refer to the award specification at <http://www.qqi.ie/Qualifications/Pages/Certificate-Supplement.aspx> for further information.

Accredited prior learning

Anybody may apply for accreditation of prior learning for the purposes of access to a programme leading to a further education and training award, for exemptions within the programme and for direct access to awards. The assessment must be done by a provider of education and training who has been approved for this purpose by QQI. Award components for which exemptions have been achieved through prior certification are noted on the learner's transcript. Those that have been achieved through the accreditation of prior learning are not noted on the Also certificate.

Directed Hours:

Directed hours are the hours the provider spends directly delivering the content of the programme to the learner. They include class contact, direct online contact, assessment and laboratory time. They can include work-based direction, where there is a tutor/instructor on-site delivering content.

Self-Directed Hours

Self-directed hours are the hours where the learning is learner-led. They include practice time, work experience, preparation, study time and reflection time.

	15	150	50-130	20-100
	20	200	80-160	40-120

Entry requirements

To access programmes leading to this award the learner should have reached the standards of knowledge, skill and competence associated with the preceding level of the National Framework of Qualifications. This may have been achieved through a formal qualification or through relevant life and work experience.

Additional information

Information on validated programmes is available on the relevant provider's website and on <http://www.qqi.ie/Qualifications/Pages/Certificate-Supplement.aspx>

More information (including a description of the national qualifications system) available at:

www.nfq.ie and www.qqi.ie

National reference point

Quality and Qualifications Ireland (QQI) hosts Qualifications Recognition which is part of the European Network of Information Centres / National Academic Recognition Information Centres (ENIC/NARIC) and acts as the National Reference Point (NRP) for further education qualifications. Please see www.qualrec.ie for further information.

Europass (www.europass.ie) is an initiative to support EU citizens accessing employment or study opportunities across Europe. An electronic portfolio of five standardised documents allows easy understanding and comparison of qualifications, work and study experiences. The portfolio contains

- Europass Curriculum Vitae
- Europass Language Passport
- Europass Mobility
- Europass Diploma Supplement
- Europass Certificate Supplement

This Europass Certificate Supplement is made available by Quality and Qualifications Ireland (QQI) to support EU wide recognition and understanding of further education and training awards made by QQI. Further education and training awards are on the National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ).

The NFQ (see illustration below) is a system of ten levels and different kinds of qualifications, known as award types. Each level is based on nationally agreed ranges of knowledge, skill and competence that must be demonstrated by learners so as to achieve a particular qualification. The award type indicates the purpose, volume and progression opportunities associated with the award. Certificate Supplements are only issued for major and special purpose awards.

All qualifications in the NFQ are recognised nationally and internationally, are referenced to the EQF and are quality assured. Providers offering programmes of education and training leading to further education and training awards are currently quality assured by QQI.

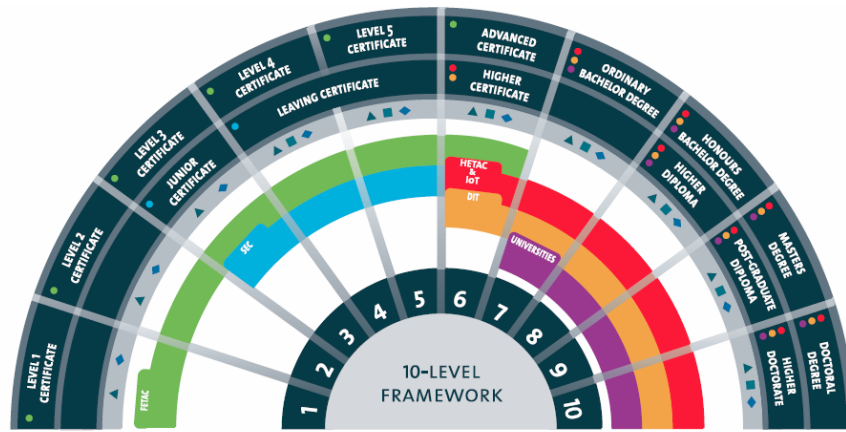

The NFQ contains four award types as follows:

A major award represents a significant volume of learning outcomes. A major award will prepare learners for employment, participation in society and community and access to higher levels of education and training.

A minor award is an award that is derived from and must link to, at least one major, special purpose or supplemental award. Minor awards are smaller than their parent award(s). Achievement of a minor award provides for recognition of learning that has relevance and value in its own right.

A special purpose award is made for specific and relatively narrow purposes. All special purpose awards comprise one or more components. The learner must successfully achieve all the stated requirements in order to achieve the special purpose award.

A supplemental award is an award which recognises learning which involves updating/up-skilling and/or continuing education and training with specific regard to occupations. All supplemental awards comprise one or more components. The learner must successfully achieve all the stated requirements in order to achieve the supplemental award.

AWARDING BODIES

- FETAC - awarded by Quality and Qualifications Ireland (QQI)
- SEC - State Examinations Commission (Department of Education and Skills)
- HETAC - awarded by Quality and Qualifications Ireland (QQI)
- IoT - Institutes of Technology

AWARDS IN THE FRAMEWORK

There are four types of award in the National Framework of Qualifications:

- Major Awards: named in the outer rings, are the principal class of awards made at a level
- ▲ Minor Awards: are for partial completion of the outcomes for a Major Award
- Supplemental Awards: are for learning that is additional to a Major Award
- ◆ Special Purpose Awards: are for relatively narrow or purpose-specific achievement
